Important Announcement

A new series of
NATURAL
 GEOGRAPHIES

Redway and Hinman

In the new series of these sterling geographies emphasis is laid on industrial, commercial, and political geography, with just enough physiography to bring out causal relations.

The text is clear, interesting, and explicit.

Two sets of excellent maps are provided, one for study and the other for reference.

The engravings are distinguished for their aptness and perfect illustrative character.

The series is published in two forms, which meet the various methods of supply

"Know the World You Live Upon and Read About Every Day"

WE wish to announce to the book trade we have just produced the greatest popular educational work of the last century, the INTERNATIONAL FLAT-GLOBE and INTERNATIONAL GEOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD, edited by ROBERT E. PEARY, the noted Arctic explorer, for two years President American Geographical Society, and Commander in the United States Navy.

It is sold at a popular price, and is meeting with a heavy, broad, general sale. It duplicates in a superior and more convenient form an old style globe of the world, that sells for $250.00. The retail price of this work is $5.00, in dozen and half dozen lots $3.00 per set wholesale. You will find a big sale for this Globe and History rightly presented.

Man is a continuous student, and must have a Geography Globe to-day to intelligently read newspapers, current events and history. These tell you what is happening everywhere, the Globe shows you where it is happening, and the History tells you about the place and people. Maps, atlases, charts, geography books and encyclopedia maps are fragmentary, disconnected and disproportioned.

The Flat-Globe is the New Twentieth Century method of making a Globe. It pictures the world at a glance, and is handsomely printed in seven colors upon one reversible disk 28 inches in diameter. Latitude, longitude, and the whole earth's surface are connected entirely around it as in the old-fashioned ball-globe. It is light and convenient. It can be hung flat against the wall, and is a handsome ornament. It can also be used upon a table or desk, and at night under a light. It is the most satisfactory and beautiful Globe ever produced.

The International Flat-Globe and International Geographical History together form a new and splendid system of geographical comparison, review and reference, that has never existed before. Each is necessary to the intelligent and satisfactory use of the other. The Globe illustrates the entire earth's surface, the Geographical History explains and describes the earth's physical geography, phenomena and forces of nature; mathematical geography and its interesting data; national and political geography of continents, nations, and their dependencies.

They give a complete understanding of world-wide geography that is both scholarly and commercial. They should be in every home and place of business, as well as schools, libraries and offices.

Send your order to-day. You will have a steady, regular sale of them, a big school trade, and also a large output as a holiday present.

HISTORY AND CIVIL GOVERNMENT

A definite and consistent course in History and Civil Government can be secured by using the textbooks here listed. Each of these books is a unit in itself, and also a part of a closely articulated whole. Each is based on the principle that pupils should be stimulated to think, reason, analyze, and discuss; not merely memorize and recite historical facts and stories.

Tappan's American Hero Stories. Grade 5 or 6.....$0.55
A series of 29 complete, vividly written, and arranged in chronological order.

Tappan's Our Country's Story. Grade 6 or 7..... 0.65
A closely connected narrative, emphasizing in a simple way the relation between connected events.

Tappan's England's Story. Grade 7, 8, or 9..... 0.85
A simple narrative of the principal incidents in English history from Cæsar's time to the present.

Fiske's History of the United States. Grammar Grades..... 1.00
The most accurate, interesting, and sound grammar-school history available. It develops power to think and really teaches history.

Strong & Shafer's Government of the American People. Grade 8, 9, or 10. 0.85
A simple, clear and interesting treatment of national, state, county, township, and city government in the United States.

Larned's History of England. For the high school..... 1.25
The best balanced and most teachable text on the subject. A special feature is the frequent summaries of contemporary European history.

Larned's History of the United States. For the high school..... 1.40
A logical, unbiased, thought-provoking treatment of the industrial, constitutional, and territorial growth of the United States. With special surveys of the condition of the country.

Fiske's Civil Government. For advanced high school use..... 1.00
Written on broad and definite lines, and recently revised to include full treatment of all important present-day problems of American government.

RECENT IMPORTANT BOOKS

Holt's On the Civic Relations...... 1.75
Not a mere description of the structure of government, but a statement of the principles that should regulate government in its relations to individuals, and in its shaping of the relations of individuals to each other.

Leacock's Elements of Political Science...... 1.75
This book offers a survey of the main principles of political theory, and a comparative view of national government. Treatment by topics rather than by countries is the essential feature.

Chancellor's A Theory of Motives, Ideals and Values in Education. On press.
This an appreciation, or evaluation, of modern education, its purposes, subjects, and methods.

Tyler's Growth and Education...... 1.50
A study of the physical growth and development of the child, the purpose of which is to determine what shall be the educational aims and methods in each successive stage up to the end of the high-school course.

Colby's Literature and Life in School...... 1.25
This is a persuasive appeal for the study of literature as literature during all the years of a child's school life.

Root's The Poetry of Chaucer...... 1.50
The aim of this study is to make accessible in a single volume the results of all the scholarly investigations on the subject from Tyrwhitt to the present day.

Maynadier's The Arthur of the English Poets...... 1.50
This is the first attempt to trace the complete history of the Arthurian Legend from its beginning to the present day.

Page's The Chief American Poets...... 1.75
This book contains the most complete equipment yet combined in one volume for the study of our chief poets. Over 700 complete poems are included, with notes, bibliographies, biographical sketches, and a full index.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. call attention to the fact that "The Stooping Lady," inadvertently announced by us last week as by Eden Phillpotts, is by Maurice Hewlett, and is the first long novel which he has written in two years. It will be ready in the fall. "The Mother of Man," by Eden Phillpotts, will not appear in book form until next year.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish shortly "Grant, Lincoln, and the Freedmen," a volume of Civil War reminiscences by Dr. John Eaton. It will include a history of "The Work for the Contrabands and Freedmen of the Mississippi Valley from 1862 to 1865." The author, who writes in collaboration with Ethel Osgood Mason, was at one time General Superintendent of Freedmen in the Department of Tennessee.

A. M. ROBERTSON, San Francisco, Cal., has just ready a volume of "Selected Poems," by Dr. Edward Robeson Taylor, who has just been chosen mayor of San Francisco, Cal., made up of selections from the author's "Visions, and Other Verse" and "Into the Light, and Other Verse," the stock of which was destroyed in the great fire, to which are added a number of items never before printed; "Through Painted Panes, and Other Poems," by Louis Alexander Robertson; also, "Joe Tilden's Recipes for Epicures," the author of which—the late Major Joseph Tilden—was one of the most famous bohemians and epicureans of the Pacific Coast. These volumes are attractively printed and bound.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY have in preparation a new book by Gelett Burgess, entitled "The Maxims of Methuselah." This book purports to be the advice given by the patriarch to his great-grandson, Shem, in regard to women. They have also under way "The Conquest of Cancer," by C. W. Saleeby, in which Dr. Saleeby replies to the criticism of the "pancreatic" treatment by some of the medical journals; "Biology and Progress," also by Dr. Saleeby; a new book by Harold Bindloss, called "Winston of the Prairie," a story built upon an exchange of identity by two men, and containing some striking situations; also, "Our Babies," by Paul Helleu, a book of studies in motherhood and child life, is being imported by this company.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just brought out a work on "Psychology," by Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, Professor of Psychology and Director of the Psychological Laboratory at Yale University. The present work is the first volume of a series of text-books designed to introduce the student to the methods and principles of scientific psychology, and aims to develop a functional view of mental life. The volume is amply illustrated. They have also just ready "The Art of Composition," for high schools and academies, by William Schuyler, assistant principal of the William McKinley High School at St. Louis, Mo., and Philo. M. Buck, Jr., of the same institution. The volume treats of composition in general, of the forms of composition, of the materials of composition, and of criticism, and in an appendix gives forms of letter writing, versification and capital letters and punctuation.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY American Educational List, 1907

This List plans to include all textbooks used in American schools and academic institutions (not in universities, professional or technical schools) and books prepared especially for supplementary reading in primary and grammar schools; also classical and foreign texts, annotated for schools, officially recommended for school use, and such English texts as are required for college entrance examinations, 1906-11. Entries are under authors or editors; classical texts are entered under editor's name, foreign and English texts under author's name, with editor's name in parenthesis. For revised subject classification, and for collective reference to classical authors entered under editors, see the second part of this List, following the main alphabet. The List does not include other English texts (except comprehensive school editions of Shakespeare); works of reference for schools (except dictionaries); nor teachers' aids (except teachers' manuals forming part of a textbook series). It is also intended to exclude imported textbooks, except such as are printed with American imprint or sold here in class quantities.

The List omits works out of print or superseded by newer editions, or works obsolete in the sense of being no longer sold in quantities for class introduction, but only in individual copies to schools having the book already in use. For such works see the American Educational List of previous years.

The price given is the "net" or introduction price made by the publisher (with close trade discount only), for which a copy is sent to a teacher postpaid. Where an additional mailing charge is made for postage on single copies, an asterisk () precedes the price. Books priced at retail, with regular trade discount, are designated by a dagger (†) in the price column. When there is a blank in price column the publisher failed to give information. A double asterisk () designates books forthcoming and yet unpriced. New books issued since the List of 1906 are designated by a single asterisk () before title.

Be particular in ordering to specify edition, and to give the full name of the book as entered in this List.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION

For the American Educational List, 1907.

This classification is in seventeen main classes shown by center headings in BLACK FACE CAPS: Art, Business training, Economics and civics, Examinations, Geography, History, Kindergarten, Language, Literature, Mathematics, Music, Mythology, Penmanship, Philosophy, Physical training, Reading and elocution, and Science, divisions of these being shown by black face lower case, and subdivisions by SMALL CAPS. The index below shows under which of the main heads any specific subject may be sought, except that self-evident references, as from French language to Language, are not given.

The names refer to the preceding author list, where prices, publishers, etc., are entered.

Supplementary reading will be found under Reading and elocution (Readers) or as a division under other classes. Where such subdivisions as "complete," "elementary," and "higher" are used, books are placed under them only if so designated by publishers. Otherwise they may be found under the larger division. Series are entered only under "complete."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish in the fall a bibliography of Ralph Waldo Emerson, by George Willis Cooke. The author's "Ralph Waldo Emerson," published in 1881, by James R. Osgood & Co., and intended "as an introduction to the writings of Mr. Emerson," will be conspicuous in the "Bibliography," for it includes many things not found in any editions of Emerson then existing.

The Bulletin of Bibliography and Magazine Subject-Index for July contains the quarterly Magazine Subject-Index for April to June, 1907; the second part of "A Bibliography of Articles Relating to Holidays," by Robert M. McCurdy, revised and brought down to date by Edith M. Coulter; a "Reading List on Modern Dramatists—d'Annunzio, Hauptmann, Ibsen, Maeterlinck, Phillips, Rostand, Shaw and Sudermann," by Clara A. Mulliken, an annotated list which aims to cover the best English editions or translations of the dramatic works of these authors, whether published in collections or separately; the fifth part of the bibliography of Prose Fiction, by Nathaniel L. Goodrich, of the N. Y. State Library; and the department of "Births and Deaths," that is, the changes in the periodical world.

H. L. SOUDIER, 174 Boulevard Saint-Germain, Paris, has brought out his useful "Annuaire de la Librairie Française" for 1907, forming the fourteenth volume of the series. The volume, though larger than ever, does not yet reach the editor's ideal as to completeness because of the indifference of a number of the trade to furnish him, at no expense to themselves, with the required information. As it is the annual gives the addresses of upwards of 6000 firms arranged in one alphabet and geographically, the Paris booksellers separately and the remaining firms under the name of the Departments or the Colonies. Besides these sections there is a division of the specialties of publishers, a list of technical journals, legislation relating to the press and to literary and artistic property, directories of municipal officers, ambassadors and consuls, postal rules and regulations, tables of sizes of paper and formats of books and other information for publishers, booksellers and those connected with the allied trades. The volume is prefaced by an account of the officers of the Cercle de la Librairie, de l'Imprimerie, de la Papeterie, du Commerce, de la musique et des estampes. (6+460 p. 12°, flex. cl., 6 francs.)

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT

JULY 27, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

EDUCATIONAL LITERATURE AND ITS CLASSIFICATION.

THE concentration, a few years ago, of so large a proportion of educational publishing under the management of one great concern neither did away with the further development of educational literature nor resulted in driving competitors out of the business. In other words, no trust has a monopoly of the school-book business, despite the advantages incident to so large and far-reaching an organization as that of the American Book Company. Indeed, there are more rather than less individual publishers than of yore, although there are not so many competing publishers of the first rank as there were before so many were corralled by merger or purchase. In fact, it is practically impossible to create a monopoly trust in any branch of the book business.

The difficulties in the way of retail trade in school-books have, however, scarcely been growing less. These difficulties arise partly from trade methods and partly from the great complexity of subject and multiplicity of books which modern requirements have developed. Nevertheless, the alert retailer should not give up the business of school-book selling as a lost field, because, added to his other business, it still has its possibilities in sales and profit, though the latter may be close, and also it helps to keep in relation with him an important constituency for general purposes. The retailer must of course confine his stock of textbooks to books required by the local demand, but he should be on the alert to obtain from school-book publishers the fullest information as to new school-books and new developments in education, so as to be a help to local school authorities, and by such service to retain their good will. That the school-book trade is still worth handling is suggested by the success of at least one house in New York which has a central jobbing depot for school-books and of more than one retail house in our large cities that still make a specialty of school-books, which is especially possible where, as in some of our cities, a considerable number of private schools still exist.

Not more than two generations ago Webster's Spelling Book was the cornerstone of American education and sold literally by the million. Brown's Grammar and like well-known textbooks, each dominant in its special field, supplied a large portion of the higher needs of the grammar school. The colleges had not yet developed their elective systems, and they also required a limited range of well-known textbooks for their generalized courses. Evolution has changed all that, as it has changed almost everything in this modern world. The subjects of study have been increased, differentiated, and specialized into sub-divisions, and textbooks galore have multiplied to meet the new variety of demand.

The Classified Index to our "Educational List" has been more or less modified from time to time to include new subjects, but we have to confess that it had not kept pace with the development here outlined. During the past year we have been in consultation with leading educational publishers, school-book dealers, and educational authorities, as to a classification on more modern lines, and with the "Educational List" for 1907 we present the new classification. It is not on the Dewey decimal system, or indeed on any logical system such as would satisfy the bibliographer or the librarian, but it represents an endeavor to meet the practical conditions of the school-book trade and of the educational demand. The principle adopted has been to classify in rather large main classes—seventeen in all—subject groups analyzed into divisions and subdivisions on a systematic rather than an alphabetic arrangement. To this classified index is prefixed an alphabetical index to the divisions and subdivisions which will point the seeker for books on any specific subject to the special place in which they may be found. It has not been attempted to do more than guide the reader by entry of the author's or editor's name to the alphabetical list in which full information as to publisher and price may be found, nor has it been practicable to make, as a rule, more than one entry for one book. Related subjects should, therefore, be carefully scanned in looking up the textbooks of any particular subject.

A brief study of this Classified Index will illustrate what we have said above as to the differentiation of educational literature, and a count of the pages of the alphabetical list will suggest the growth in supply of school and college textbooks. We present the "Educational List" for 1907 as a useful help alike to publishers, retailers and teachers.

FREE TEXT-BOOKS.

TWENTY-SEVEN States have a free text-book law of some sort. In some instances the law compels the furnishing of all text-books and supplies. In others only the text-books with no supplies. In some the law is mandatory; in others optional. The following statement contains the gist of the laws in the twenty-seven States with information as to the pupils, grades and branches to be supplied:

Maine—Mandatory; school books, apparatus and appliances; not limited.

New Hampshire—Mandatory; text-books and other supplies; not limited.

Vermont—Mandatory; appliances, supplies and text-books; to certain specified elementary branches.

Massachusetts—Mandatory; text-books and other school supplies, including tools, implements and materials used for instruction in the use of tools and cooking.

Rhode Island—Mandatory; text-books and other school supplies; not limited.

Connecticut—Optional; text-books and other school supplies; not limited.

New York—Optional; text-books; to pupils in schools in union free school districts.

New Jersey—Mandatory; text-books and school supplies; not limited.

Pennsylvania—Mandatory; books and supplies; not limited.

Delaware—Mandatory; text-books; to pupils, including colored, of public schools outside Wilmington.

Maryland—Mandatory; text-books; introduced into the grades successively, beginning with the first; annual expenditure limited to $150,000, appropriated by the State.

District of Columbia—Optional; text-books and supplies; to grades below high school. No law upon the subject. Congress makes annually the necessary appropriation upon the estimate of the board of education.

West Virginia—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Ohio—Optional; school books; to the elementary branches specified in the compulsory educational law.

Michigan—Optional; text-books; to certain specified elementary branches.

Wisconsin—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Minnesota—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Iowa—Optional; text-books; not limited.

North Dakota—Optional; books and supplies; not limited.

South Dakota—Optional; school books; not limited.

Nebraska—Mandatory; text-books and school supplies; not limited.

Kansas—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Wyoming—Mandatory; text-books and school supplies; not limited.

Colorado—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Utah—Mandatory; text-books and supplies; to pupils below high school.

Idaho—Optional; text-books; not limited.

Washington—Optional; text-books; not limited.

In addition to this there are about 100 cities of 25,000 population and over which furnish free text-books and supplies to the pupils of the public schools.

Generally where the State pays for the books and supplies under a mandatory law the purchasing is done by a central agency or board, which buys everything wanted in a lump and distributes as needed. Of course, the books and supplies are not all shipped to a central point, but are shipped under the direction of the central board, as wanted in different parts of the State.

Wherever a central agency buys all the books and supplies the office of the board is usually in the Educational Department at the State Capitol.

PRINTING IN TIBET.

THE principal printing press in Tibet is situated at Nartang, near Shigatse, within the jurisdiction of the Teshi Lama. "It was visited," according to the London Academy, "by Sarat Chandra Das, and a correspondent of the Anglo-Indian Pioneer who has lately returned from that part of Tibet gives the following interesting particulars of the system of printing. The Tibetan printers are still at the stage of the block-book, for which each page had to be carved separately on a single block of wood, and many thousands of such blocks are kept in stock at Nartang. Each wooden block is about twenty-four inches long by twelve inches wide, one face having carved upon it a complete page of lettering. The method of printing is primitive in the extreme, and consists in laying the paper on a flat surface and levering the block upon it with a long handle much as the village blacksmith works his bellows. Sarat Chandra Das endeavored to simplify the process by presenting a lithographic press to the Tibetan Prime Minister, but it fell under the suspicion of being intended to diffuse smallpox, and no one ventured to unpack it for many months. As the correspondent mentioned found the old system of block printing still in use the other day it evidently never became popular."

NEW BOOKSTORE AND PUBLISHING FIRM IN CHICAGO.

It has just been announced that The Dial Company of Chicago is to open in that city a large and well-equipped bookstore early in October, and will later inaugurate a general book publishing business. The company will, of course, carry on actively the three periodicals with which it has so long been identified, and which are so well known to the trade throughout the country: The Dial, the acknowledged leading literary journal in America; the "Trade Book List," a monthly bulletin of new books, supplied in imprint editions to booksellers throughout the United States; and "What's in the Magazines," devoted to the interests of periodicals as the first two are to books.

A special point is to be made of the decoration and fittings of this new shop. It is said that the beauty and distinction of the interior, as well as its comfort and convenience, are so unusual and striking that Browne's Bookstore, as it will be called, is likely to be unique among bookshops on this side of the water. At the same time no essential feature of a modern general bookstore will be overlooked, and a large miscellaneous stock of new and standard books of all kinds will be carried. Exceptional space for the main salesroom, as well as for the offices, storerooms, etc., has been secured in the Fine Arts Building on Michigan Avenue. This building, by the way, is a unique institution in Chicago, and does not quite have a parallel in New York or Boston. In a location of peculiar advantage on the city's water-front, overlooking Lake Michigan, this beautiful and populous structure now contains many of Chicago's literary and artistic interests, as well as some of the best retail shops, leading clubs, etc., making it a place of peculiar fitness for the new bookstore.

The general direction of this enterprise will be in the hands of Francis F. Browne, president of The Dial Company and founder of The Dial, who will continue the editorial management of the journal begun by him in 1880; and Waldo R. and Herbert S. Browne, who have assisted their father in the affairs of The Dial Company—all practical and experienced men who have been intimately associated with the booktrade for many years. The direction of the bookstore will be the special interest of W. R. Browne, seconded by R. S. Anderson, who for the past thirteen years has been in the buying department of A. C. McClurg & Co.; while H. S. Browne will be the treasurer and financial man of the house. Another recent accession is H. B. Harvey, who has been in charge of McClurg & Co.'s advertising department for the last six years.

This accession to the ranks of the book-selling and publishing trades is most cordially welcomed. Few men in this country have done more for letters and the best interests of those connected with the disseminating of good reading than the founder of The Dial and those associated with him in this new enterprise.

CONVENTION OF NATIONAL ASS'N OF STATIONERS AND MANUFACTURERS.

THE third annual convention of the National Association of Stationers and Manufacturers was held at the Hotel Ryan, St. Paul, Minn., on July 15. About 200 members and their friends were present, representing sixteen of the larger cities of the United States. Charles H. Mann, the president of the Association, acted as chairman. After disposing of the routine business Mr. Mann, at the second day's session, presented his report of the work done during his term of office. According to the secretary's report the Association now numbers 581, an increase of thirty-eight members. The treasurer's report indicated a slight deficit. Reports were then submitted by the committees. In the evening Fletcher B. Gibbs read an excellent paper on "Making of Prices," the leading note of which was to mark nothing at a price that yields less than $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. margin on the selling price, to withdraw all leaders at cut prices and to cancel all special discounts to retail customers. George M. Courts, of Galveston, Tex., read a paper on "Business Methods," O. H. L. Wernicke, of Grand Rapids, Mich., spoke on "Good Fellowship;" Samuel Ward, of Boston, presented a paper on "Itemized Expenses," and W. H. Hopkins, of the Globe-Wernicke Company, of Cincinnati, delivered an address on "Freight Classification."

At the third day's session the following officers were elected:

President, William J. Kennedy, of the Kennedy Stationery Company, St. Louis; first vice-president, Emil Berolzheimer, of the Eagle Pencil Company, New York; second vice-president, William St. Gilkey, of the Brooks Company, Cleveland, O.; third vice-president, William H. Kistler, Kistler Stationery Co., Denver, Col.; secretary, James T. Lacey, Woodward & Tiernan Printing Company, St. Louis; treasurer, Abner K. Pratt, of J. L. Fairbanks & Co., Boston; auditor, Charles A. Stevens, of Stevens, Maloney & Co., Chicago.

After the election of officers and the appointment of directors, Millington Lockwood read a paper on "Competitive Prices;" James T. Lacy, of St. Louis, a paper on a "Perpetual Inventory for the Stationers," and Theodore L. C. Gerry, of New York, a paper on "The Relation of the Manufacturer, Jobber and Retailer."

The last day's session was taken up by the discussion of a number of subjects brought up by different members, and the appointment of a committee to prepare a Year Book of the Association, to include the papers read at the convention, the Constitution of the National Association and an outline of a constitution for any prospective local association.

The convention concluded with a dinner at the Hotel Ryan, at which President Kennedy acted as toastmaster. Each day was filled in with excursions, picnics and sight-seeing under the direction of the local association.

The next convention is to be held in Boston, July 13 to 16, 1908.

THE LONDON TIMES REPUDIATES THE NEW PUBLISHING COMPANY.

IN an advertisement in the London Times of the recently-formed New Publishing Company, Ltd., to be supported by members of The Times Book Club, for the purpose of smashing "the publishing ring," the following remarkable statements are made: (1) "The company is not in any way connected with The Times," and (2) "The company is not in any way connected with The Publishers' Association."

As the London Publishers' Circular puts it: "It is clear that the first statement cannot be correct. Even if no shares are held by The Times or those connected with it, the concern is closely connected with The Times Book Club and with the whole misguided policy of The Times, of which it is admittedly the outcome. As regards the second statement that the New Publishing Company, Ltd., is in no way connected with The Publishers' Association, it can only be regarded as a feeble bit of pleasantry bordering on insult. . . .

"Booksellers know that the sole object of The Times is to make money by selling new books at second-hand prices direct to the public, even directly they are published—they know that this policy must be as damaging to authors and to publishers as to themselves; they are therefore not likely to be hoodwinked by the statements put forth by the directors of this New Publishing Company, Ltd., viz., that 'its operations will be specially designed to encourage the revival of the Retail Booksellers,' and that it will be prepared to 'offer generous terms to all local distributing agencies, whether retail traders or book clubs.'"

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

UNFAIR QUOTATION.

IN an action brought in London by Harper & Brothers against the proprietors of The Electrical Engineer, the court, on June 26, gave judgment to the plaintiffs. It appears that after favorably reviewing a work entitled "Elements of Electric Traction for Motormen and Others," published by Harper & Brothers, the editor published extracts from the book to which, though extensive, the publishers made no objection. In later issues these extracts were continued, at first with full acknowledgment, but by degrees with less until all indication of the source was omitted. Harper & Brothers then brought suit, claiming that the reprint of the important parts of the book was hurting its sale. The judge in giving his opinion said that the copying far exceeded the fair and reasonable limits of a review. The review proper had been published on February 1, but after a week had been allowed to elapse these extracts had been printed without comment, and in one case without any notice or acknowledgment. It was clear there had been an infringement of copyright in this book, and from the defendant's evidence it was clear he knew the extracts were too long to appear with the review and would be inserted in future numbers. The only question was what damages should be given—£5 which had been paid into court was too little, but the plaintiffs were only entitled to such damage as they could prove they had sustained, and that was not more than £15. There would be judgment for £10 in addition to what had been paid in, and the plaintiffs were entitled to costs, for which he would certify on the high court scale.

COMMUNICATIONS.

THE FALSE ETHICS OF THE BOOKTRADE.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: The trade in books from publisher to purchaser is conducted on a false basis. Unlike the trade in other commodities, it is not grounded upon just principles nor honest methods. The dealer in cloths purchases a cloth of the manufacturer or his agent, say, at one dollar per yard. He fixes $1.25 as its selling price, which gives him a fair margin of profit, can buy one or more pieces at the uniform price of a dollar per yard, and so long as the texture is good and the style prevails he holds to that price.

Now, take the retail bookseller. The current published price of the cloth bound novel is $1.50; but this is a fictitious price to start with, for no retail dealer, in any bookstore, from Greenland to the tropics, ever thinks of asking the published price of $1.50. In towns remote from the publication office, possibly, he may ask and readily secure $1.25 or $1.35; but the current price varies in the larger towns from $1.08 to $1.20. He buys on a graduated scale at from 81 to 90 cents, and this price prevails for one year from the date of publication. What then? Many of these books are thereafter sold at prices varying from 30 cents to 36 or 38 cents, and the publisher's price is 75 cents (another fictitious list price, as the books are everywhere retailed at from 40 to 50 cents).

Can you advise me of any branch of trade where the same methods are now, or ever have been, similar? If so, I wish you would. Now, who is to blame for this condition of things? Certainly the fault does not rest with the retailer. Then who is at fault? Primarily, we believe the fault rests wholly with the publisher. He it is who owns and absolutely controls the copyright. He should establish a retail price which the public should be made to believe is a true and not a fictitious price and then sell at a price, not for a year only at three times the price which he is willing to sell the same book for twelve months hence. Book buyers are not all fools. They know that so long as they can purchase a $1.50 book after a year has elapsed for 50 cents that either the 50 cent price is an unprofitable one alike to publisher and the retail dealer, or that the first selling price affords, one or the other, and perhaps both, publisher and retailer, an enormous profit.

Books are not sold so readily as groceries and clothing and consequently they should bring a somewhat increased profit over that of such commodities. It is not too much to seek for—30 or 35 per cent. profit. Then let the published price be placed at $1.25 for the book now published at $1.50 and supply this book to the retail dealer at 25 per cent. discount and hold that price for years. Then give the jobber, not the library purchaser, an extra discount sufficient to enable him to do a successful business, and not sell the outside man who purchases for a syndicate at any better rates than you give the retailer.

When this condition of affairs prevails you may look to see a revival of the booktrade, and never till that day. Then the small dealer in all our remote towns will take courage, and we shall see such a revival and such increased demands for books as never yet prevailed.

OBITUARY NOTES.

FRANK DENHAM HARMON, for a number of years the head of the Burr Printing House, 18 Jacob Street, New York City, of which his father-in-law, Henry A. Burr, was the proprietor, was thrown from his touring car while speeding down Bradley Hill on a trip from Boston to Nantasket Beach on July 22, and so seriously injured that he died within an hour.

HECTOR HENRI MALOT, the French journalist and novelist, died in Paris on July 19. Malot was born in La Bouille, Seine-Inférieure, May 20, 1830. He first practiced law and later became a writer for the Paris newspapers. In 1859 he published his first novel, "Les Amants," which was the first of a series of three books known as "Les Victimes d'Amour." Malot next undertook to write critical articles for the then new magazine, L'Opinion Nationale. He went to London as correspondent, and published later "La Vie Moderne en Angleterre," made up of letters on British customs and life. He later on furnished up several English court cases as novels. "Vices Français" told the story of the Dilke divorce case. He also wrote a book reviewing the case of Lady Colin Campbell, in which he took up the cudgels for the lady. Life under the Second Empire appealed to him particularly as worthy of being portrayed. M. Malot was a bit of a sensationalist, a keen analyst and a sympathetic writer. He wrote several books for and about children. His book "Sans Famille," widely read here in a translation called "No Relations," was crowned by the French Academy. Besides the books mentioned some of his best known are "Les Aventures de Romain Kalbris," "Mme. Obernin," "Souvenirs d'un Blessé," "Le Docteur Claude," "Paulette," "Mondaine," "Mère," "Amours de Jeunes" and "Amours de Vieux."

BUSINESS NOTES.

BATH, ME.—The Shaw bookstore, which has been famous for over fifty years, has passed into the hands of the Crocker-Shaw Company. Wallace E. Shaw, who was for many years associated with his father, the late John O. Shaw, has formed a partnership with S. C. Crocker, of the Crocker Pen Company, and the two will endeavor to make this one of the best book and stationery stores in Maine.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y.—A. J. Rodger's central news room has removed to larger and more convenient quarters in the Kasson Opera block, 34 North Main Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The publishing business which has formerly been conducted in the name of T. J. McBride & Son was transferred, on July 1, to The John McBride Co., who are liable for all accounts made in the name of the former firm. This, however, applies only to the publishing department.

QUEENS, N. Y.—The Marion Press has been incorporated to print, publish and sell books, papers, stationery, etc. The incorporators are Gilbert B. Sayres, N. D. Llewellyn, Clarence A. Ludlam, all of Jamaica, N. Y.

VERNAL, UTAH.—F. M. Young has sold his book and stationery store to the Bracken Clothing Company.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

A. B. PIERSON, 1539 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, Cal., has just brought out "Back Log Philosophies," by L. W. Harris, author of the "Damndest Finest Ruins."

THE OAKWOOD COMPANY, Boston, is about to publish a book of advice on "How to Get a Job and How to Keep It," by Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., author of "Starting in Life," etc.

BRENTANO'S have just ready "Lucy Gort," a story of English life, by Lucy and Claude Askew, authors of "The Shulamite," a South African story, which was staged in this country last year.

BEGINNING August 10 and continuing until September 14 the Saturday issue of the New York Times will contain articles on educational topics, in which parents and guardians will be interested.

W. A. WILDE & Co., Boston, have in preparation the "Select Notes" by the Rev. Dr. F. N. Peloubet and Professor Amos R. Wells. This, as is well known, is a commentary on the international Sunday-school lessons for 1908.

THE C. M. CLARK PUBLISHING COMPANY is issuing a special New England and Boston edition of James Bell Naylor's "Old Home Week," with a portrait of Rollins, who invented the "week" and a picture of his home at Concord.

SMALL, MAYNARD & Co. will publish shortly "The Road to Damascus," by Mrs. H. A. Mitchell Keays, author of "He That Eateth Bread With Me." They will bring out in September Camille Flammarion's "Mysterious Psychic Forces."

MITCHELL KENNERLEY announces "Cherub Divine," a novel by Sewell Ford; "Wisdom of Dickens," by Temple Scott; "Children's Plays," by Florida Pier; also, a book on Ibsen, by Montrose J. Moses, author of "Famous Actor Families in America."

THE BROADWAY PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York City, will publish shortly a controversial work, entitled "The Story of the Covenant and the Mystery of the Jew," by J. L. Woodbridge; "Pocahontas," by Virginia C. Castleman; also, "The Doomed City," by J. Salmon Maclean.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY is now ready with a full line of school supplies for the fall trade, and dealers should send for a copy of the new catalogue, that gives all information of the stock, which includes all the standard goods and many new articles shown this season for the first time.

THE Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune reports that M. Nicoulaud had decided to give the world another volume of memoirs by the Comtesse de Boigne. It will presumably be put promptly into English and issued here by the Scribners, who brought out the first volume a short time ago.

THE ANGEL GUARDIAN PRESS, Boston, will publish early in the fall a work in three volumes, entitled "Our Church, Her Children and Institutions," edited by Henry Coyle and Theodore Mayhew. The book will contain instructive and interesting articles concerning the Catholic Church and religion, with many fine illustrations.

GEORGE EDMUND PLATT, eastern representative of the Reilly & Britton Co., Chicago, will establish headquarters at 395 Broadway, New York, in the offices of Hurst & Co., on August 1. Mr. Platt will have a complete line of samples, including the immensely popular Teddy Bears Series and "Ozma of Oz," the new Baum book, which has had a very heavy advance sale.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in preparation a new collection of Voltaire's short stories, in their Classiques Français series which will contain, besides an admirable introduction by Gustav Lanson and a very useful bibliography, the following stories from the Contes Choisis: "Zadig, ou La Destinée;" "Memnon ou La Sagesse Humaine;" "Micromégas;" "Histoire d'un Bon Bramin;" "Le Blanc et Le Noir," and "Jeannot et Colin."

MRS. GEORGE CORNWALLIS WEST is engaged in writing her memoirs, and they are to be published simultaneously in England and America in the course of next year. Since the memorable April day in 1874 when the marriage of Jennie Jerome, daughter of the late Leonard Jerome, of New York, to Lord Randolph Churchill took place at the British Embassy in Paris, she has been in close touch with all the most interesting people of her adopted country.

THE A. I. ROOT COMPANY, Medina, O., will publish in September a German edition of the "A B C of Bee Culture," ("Das A B C der Bienenzucht,") by A. I. Root, revised by E. R. Root, and edited by Friedrich Greiner. The work is a compendium of all known information relating to the bee, its food and its care, the cultivation of honey and honey-bearing plants, manufacture of hives, etc. The revised (86th) edition of the original work in English is just ready.

It is proposed to reissue the "Dictionary of National Biography" in a less expensive and more compendious form. This step is in accordance with the wishes of the founder that the work should be brought within reach of the students and libraries to whom the price and size of the "Dictionary" have hitherto been prohibitive. The entire work in the existing type will now be comprised in 22 volumes, instead of 66 as at present; and it is hoped that the publication may begin in the course of next year.

STORIES by Dickens, hitherto unpublished, (as his,) are promised. Recently there turned up an old ledger belonging to Household Words, the publication for which Dickens wrote much, showing payments made for articles in that journal, the account covering many years. By means of this book the contributions by Dickens have been identified. A number of stories, sketches, and miscellaneous articles not since repeated and altogether unknown to this generation, are shown to have been written by Dickens, while of several stories which have been attributed to him it is now certain he was not the author.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY will publish in the early fall a new illustrated edition of that incomparable animal story, "Beautiful Joe," by Marshall Saunders, with eight full-page illustrations, a colored frontispiece, illustrated title-page, and illustrated chapter headings, by Charles Copeland, the well-known artist, who has so successfully illustrated a number of the best animal story books. They will publish shortly a new song book for Sunday-school, gospel services and church worship by Charles H. Gabriel, entitled "Praise and Service." The book consists largely of new hymns and music, and is not burdened with from ten to fifty pages of songs to be found in almost every book issued, for which the people must pay over and over again, because they are "popular," but is filled with new and fresh compositions, many of which will no doubt become popular favorites, supplemented by a selection of the choicest church hymns which are always serviceable and useful.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have in preparation for young readers a "Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by James Morgan, which should find a large number of readers as the next Presidential campaign draws near; a book about the birds, by Mabel Osgood Wright, with the delightful title "Gray Lady and the Birds," and a new story for girls by Christina Gowans White, author of that admirable tale, "The Story-Book Girls." In biography there is a treat in store for many readers in the first English translation of the Memoirs of the elder Dumas, which is to appear in six volumes, the first volume being announced for the first of October. No less interesting will be "An Artist's Reminiscences," by Walter Crane, who is almost as well known in America as in England; and the "Letters of Dean Hole" will also be attractive to many readers. In history, besides the second volume of Professor Edward Channing's "History of the United States," the concluding volume of Dr. Henry Charles Lea's "History of the Inquisition of Spain," and a new volume in the Cambridge Modern History, an important new work is promised on "British Colonial Policy, 1754-1765," by George Louis Beer.

DUFFIELD & COMPANY's fall list will include a new and copiously illustrated volume of art criticisms by Kenyon Cox, author of "Old Masters and New," to be called "Painters and Sculptors;" also, "Houses for Town or Country," by William Herbert, with many half-tones; "Historic Churches of America," by Mrs. N. U. Wallington, illustrated, and with an introduction, by the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale; "Plays of Our Forefathers," by Professor Charles M. Gayley, of the University of California; "Poems of Edgar Allan Poe," edited by Edmund Clarence Stedman and George E. Woodberry; "House Health," by Dr. Norman Bridge; a posthumous drama by Richard Hovey, called "The Holy Graal;" "Gypsy Verses," by Helen Hay Whitney; "Familiar Faces," a new book of comic verse by Harry Graham, author of "Misrepresentative Men;" and a new and especially illustrated Vermont edition of Miss Theodora Peck's successful novel, "Hester of the Grants." Of their fall books for children undoubtedly the leader will be Jessie Willcox Smith's and Helen Hay Whitney's "The Bed-Time Book," a volume of Mrs. Whitney's children's verses with an accompaniment of Miss Smith's ever-welcome pictures in color. Other juveniles from the same list are Kate Dickinson Sweetser's "Boys and Girls from Thackeray;" Paul Harboe's "Child's Biography of Hans Christian Andersen;" Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale's "Stories from the Old Testament for Children," with pictures in color by Roscoe Shrader and Herbert Moore, two promising young pupils of Howard Pyle; and a new edition of Virginia Gerson's "Happy Heart Family," containing the two original volumes in one. In the line of fiction they announce a new novel by Neith Boyce, (Mrs. Hutchins Hapgood,) dealing with modern marriage, and called "The Bond." Richard Pryce's novel, "The Successor," already announced, will appear positively on August 24.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have in preparation "Magda, Queen of Sheba," the story of the visit of the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon and of the early life of their son, translated into French from the original Ghese, the language of the Ethiopian priests, by Hugues Le Roux and from the French into English by Mrs. John Van Vorst, with an introduction especially prepared for this edition by Hugues Le Roux; "The Emancipation of Miss Susanna," by Margaret Hannis, a little tale which unfolds the moving story of the means by which a spinster, thought to be hopeless in her spinsterhood, accomplished a matrimonial ambition; "Smiling 'Round the World," a new book by Marshall P. Wilder; a new edition of Mabel Wagnalls' "Stars of the Opera," containing much new matter; "A Standard Bible Dictionary," prepared under the editorial direction of Melancthon W. Jacobus, Dean of Hartford Theological Seminary; three new volumes of sermons by Alexander Maclaren, "After the Resurrection," "Leaves from the Tree of Life," and "Last Sheaves;" a Teachers' edition of Forbush's "The Boy's Life of Christ;" "The Union Prayer-Meeting Helper," a vest-pocket commentary on the prayer-meeting topics for 1908; "The Semi-Insane and the Semi-Responsible," by Professor Joseph Grasset, translated by Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe; "Sex Equality," by Dr. Emmett Densmore; "Home Gymnastics on Ling's System," by Professor Anders Wide, who treats of the system devised by Pehr Henrik Ling, which has been taught in the Stockholm Royal Gymnastic Institute with ever-increasing efficiency since 1813; "Humorous Hits and How to Hold an Audience," by Grenville Kleiser, author of "How to Speak in Public," a book that found immediate favor with public speakers; also, "The New Encyclopedia of Social Reform," revised from the edition of 1897 and edited by William D. P. Bliss, which gives the very latest information, together with the expert opinions of the highest authorities from both sides of all important sociological questions.

A. C. McCLURG & Co.'s further announcements for the fall include "Our Country Home," by Frances Kinsley [Mrs. Charles L.] Hutchinson, a chronicle of the planning, the building and the arranging of an attractive country place, with notes on gardening, etc., illustrated with reproductions of upwards of one hundred photographs; "The Great Plains," by Randall Parrish, describing the romantic and picturesque events in the development of the West, with a number of illustrations; "The Campaign of Santiago de Cuba," by Colonel H. H. Sargent, a study in modern military science, in three volumes with twelve maps; the second part of Pompeo Molmenti's interesting work on Venice, translated by Horatio F. Brown, which is devoted to "Venice in the Golden Age;" "A Handbook of the Philippines," by Hamilton M. Wright, which follows the lines of Mr. Clement's very successful "Handbook of Modern Japan," a useful book for manufacturers and exporters as well as for travellers, with maps and 130 illustrations; "Literary Rambles in France," by M. Betham-Edwards, uniform with the author's work on "Home Life in France;" "Thomas Gainsborough," by William D. Bolton, a competent biography of the great painter, with forty illustrations; "How to Identify Old Chinese Porcelain," by Mrs. Willoughby Hodgson, which will appeal to collectors; "Old Oak Furniture," by Frederick Roe, useful in collecting and identifying old oak furniture, with a frontispiece in colors and many illustrations in the text by the author; also, "Dame Curtsey's Book of Novel Entertainments for Every Day in the Year," by Ellye Howell Glover, who conducts a popular column in the Chicago Record-Herald under the pseudonym of "Dame Curtsey," who has prepared this book to fill a definite need for a practical book of holiday observances. They have also in press eight volumes in their Ooze Leather Series, including "The Religion of Cheerfulness," "Catchwords of Cheer," "Gems of Wisdom," "The Rubaiyat," "Lincoln at Gettysburg," "The Lincoln Year Book," "The Franklin Year Book," and "Shakespeare's Christmas Gift to Queen Bess;" ten volumes in The Maple Leaf Series, four volumes in The Holly Series and twenty-six volumes in the Special Limp Leather Series. These series are well printed and attractively bound.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash.]

Write your wants plainly, and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Young Folks' Nature Field Book

By J. ALDEN LORING

A SHORT, timely nature story, or seasonable hint for every calendar day in the year, telling the reader just what time in the successive seasons to look for the different birds, beasts, flowers, etc., how to recognize and study them when taking observation walks for pleasure or instruction. Recognition of different creatures, etc., is assisted by numerous excellent illustrations, and alternate pages are left blank for reader's notes or record of things seen. A yearly record so kept, either by a single young person or a small group or club, cannot fail to be a source of continuous interest, not only while being made but after its completion. A club competing for the best and most complete record so made should produce pleasure and instruction throughout the year. Cloth, illustrated. $1.00 postpaid.

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS

"A genuine love for nature should be cultivated in youth. Young people in the country as well as in the town need helps to direct them in their observations, and for this purpose a new book has just been issued."—The Watchword, Dayton, Ohio.

"This is a volume that will appeal to all lovers of out-door life. . . . It is a unique book and one that must commend itself to those whose children are beginning to take an interest in nature's affairs."—St. John Globe.

"The scheme is admirably adapted to arouse interest in the sights and sounds of the wayside. Mr. Loring's advice as to methods of observation is always most sensible."—Providence Journal.

"There can be no royal road to knowledge, but to a knowledge of nature and her ways there are many quiet paths yielding varied delights beyond the joys of a regal triumph. The book is a companion rather than a guide."—Toronto Globe.

"Of incalculable value to children who are interested in any branch of nature study."—Boston Courier.

"To all who love natural history and are fond of studying the habits and haunts of the common animals and plants this book will prove a treasure trove."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"It will make the walks in the woods and parks more enjoyable, as it is a letter of introduction to the wild things whose home is in the woodland trees."—Nashville American.

TO TEACHERS AND EDUCATORS

As a publishing house we aim to meet the varying demands of the entire educational field with progressive text books adapted to the special needs of each given subject.

In our list are found attractive texts and teachers' helps for all common school grades, for the preparatory and higher institutions, and for the colleges.

Our texts represent our best efforts and the best efforts of our authors to meet the needs of pupil and teacher, both in school and home, with the most practical, attractive and scientific aids to study, and the most helpful incentives to good reading.

Among the latest additions to our list we would call particular attention to the following:

LIPPINCOTT'S Mental, Elementary and Practical ARITHMETICS

In the preparation of Lippincott's Arithmetics, the author has kept constantly in view the fundamental principles of sound teaching. The aim is to prepare students for practical life by the development of thought-power, while making them masters of the mechanical processes.

MORRIS'S Primary, Elementary and Advanced HISTORIES

Prof. Morris's language is clear, concise, forcible, and adapted to the capabilities of the pupils for whom the books were written. The style is calm, truthful, and free from all partisan or sectional prejudice.

LIPPINCOTT'S First, Second and Third Books of PHYSIOLOGY

These books are pure Physiology. The language is easily understood and is marked by the avoidance of technical and stilted expressions. The treatment of alcohol and narcotics is strong, logical and sensible, and the physical side of the subject is given the prominence it deserves.

POWER'S GRADED SPELLERS Complete and in two parts

This work represents the best of the old and the new methods, and is intended to meet modern requirements. It is not based on any fad, but upon good results obtained by actual experience.

SCHWINN AND STEVENSON'S CIVIL GOVERNMENT Containing Six Two-page Colored Maps

This volume presents a description of the various forms of government—local, state, and national—together with a discussion of the government of the United States from a historical point of view. The close relations of history and the Constitution are specially described, and numerous outlines and tables inserted.

No school room is complete without LIPPINCOTT'S NEW GAZETTEER
